Furniture Firm To Expand in New Local Site

Woodland Furniture Manufacturing which is getting ready to construct a new manufacturing plant on five acres of Lomita Blvd. property between Crenshaw Blvd. and Hawthorne Ave., was started 20 years ago when a chain of retail furniture stores was unable to get the furniture it wanted to sell. Co-owner Ben Duben said here this week. Speaking to area business and industrialists of the Chamber of Commerce, Duben said the firm had about 50 employees at present and sent their Woodland unfinished furniture as far away as Minnesota. "When we get into our new Torrance plant, we plan to send our products throughout the nation," he said. The number of employees will probably double, he said. The firm has received nationwide attention among manufacturers for the production innovations which co-owners have developed. Also introduced was Phil Duben, who heads the sales organization for the firm. Other co-owners are Al Ganulin and George Toben.

New Thiem Firm Specializes in Precision Metal

Thiem Industries, Inc., who opened a new plant at 1918 W. Artesia Blvd. recently, was started in a 5000 square foot building in 1955 and spread into leased buildings throughout the area until the new facilities were constructed here, it was reported this week by A. O. McNeely, vice president and general manager of the firm. The first unit of the plant now in use contains 20,000 square feet, McNeely said. Seventy-five persons are employed by Thiem in the manufacture of precision metal products, including consoles and computer housing. A growing phase of the company's operations is in the field of plastics, he said. As customers, Thiem Industries serves "nearly everyone in the aircraft and missile industry," he said. President of the firm is Henry Thiem, who was introduced to local Chamber of Commerce officials and area businessmen by McNeely this week.

Sheriff to Hold Pursuit Classes

Sheriff Peter J. Pitches has announced the inauguration of a pursuit driver training course for recruits of the Sheriff's Academy. "This program is designed to develop drivers' skills under a variety of simulated field conditions," stated Pitches, "and will amount to considerable savings to the taxpayers." The first class will consist of 44 officers, including four women, who will spend 16 hours on the two-mile track at the Pomona Fair Grounds. One phase, "skid pan testing," simulates high speed skids at low speed by using a large oil slick to reduce friction between the tires and the road surface. Here, the trainees learn how to regain control of a vehicle during a skid and how to keep the skidding to a minimum. Other training features include teaching the driver his own physical limitations at high speeds, the use of the siren and its limits of effectiveness, and overtaking and stopping wanted cars and suspects.

Glendale Savings Pays Out Record Dividend

In an announcement made by J. E. Hoeft, president and founder, Glendale Federal Savings and Loan Assn., it was reported that dividends for the second quarter of 1960 to account holders reached over $2,800,000, for the largest quarterly dividend ever paid by the association. It was further disclosed that dividends for the first six months of 1960 reached $5,500,000 and that the directors declared their intention to continue the 4 1/2 per cent dividend rate for the third quarter of 1960.
